Ulster University UGenie 2025

The School of Biomedical Sciences at Ulster University is delighted to announce that their Garfield-Weston funded Gene Editing Academy (UGenie) is now open to all current year 13s for 2025 entry. This will be the second year of UGenie and they will be building on the incredible success they had with the academy in 2024. You can read more about UGenie 2024 at https://www.ulster.ac.uk/news/2024/august/gene-editing-academy.

This year, the academy will run from Monday 4th to Friday 8th August 2025 on the Coleraine campus, with travel and lunch covered. This may be of interest to pupils studying A' level Biology or Life and Health Sciences, as the content will be consistent with aspects of the curriculum for these subjects. More information is also available on the webpage Ulster Gene Editing Academy (UGenie), and you can apply at this site.

Overall, the course is designed to help students develop basic laboratory skills (microbiology, pipetting, DNA extraction, PCR, electrophoresis) via a number of cutting edge gene editing experiments they have developed for 'beginner genetic engineers'. UGenie will also provide an opportunity for students to gain experience studying on the Coleraine campus, where they can engage with staff, PhD researchers and current undergrads, explore facilities, and experience university life.

Legal Apprenticeship Opportunity with Davidson McDonnell

Davidson McDonnell are now offering a 4-year legal degree apprenticeship programme in collaboration with Ulster University.

The idea is that apprentices will join their team, gaining hands on experience whilst studying at Ulster University. Over the course of 4 years, an apprentice will receive valuable practical skills and a degree, setting them up for a successful legal career. The apprentice will be based in the office for 4 days a week and will be attending Ulster University one day a week (plus any additional days that are required, as the course directs). In addition, the department for the economy will pay the tuition fees directly to Ulster University and an apprentice will be paid by Davidson McDonnell for the full week (even though they will only be in attendance at their offices for a maximum of 4 days a week). The Ulster University entry requirements are AAB at A-Level. To apply for the September 2025 intake, please send a CV and cover letter to careers@davidsonmcdonnell.com by 31st March 2025.
